WHEN PLANNING A VACATION, GOLFERS THINK.....

Nearly two thirds (61%) of golfers state that the reputation of golf in Idaho is a decisive factor when planning a vacation. Idaho has an impressive golf reputation for value of the money and over all amenities, but there is much more marketing to do to educate the vacationer to travel to Idaho.

- When making arrangements for travel, 56% of golfers refer to magazines for information
- Golfers plan on spending 5 days on their next golf vacation, playing approximately 4 rounds of golf. Golfers represent a high yield vacationer for marketers.
